NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and durable.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 30.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Aug 30.—A slightly increased rate of freight is adopted on the Erie and New York Central lines, viz.: 43 cents to Chicago.

The shirt and shawl factory of William Hoffman, at Fremont, Westchester county, employing 400 hands, was burned yesterday; loss, $600,000; insured for $50,000.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The President returns to-morrow. A cabinet meeting will be held. All the members except Hoar, Boutwell and Robertson, are expected. Rawlins has been at the Department to day.

An Absconding Thief.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30.—Jacob K. Bear, U. S. express agent and telegraph operator at Brownsville, Nebraska, absconded on the night of the 27th with $12,000 belonging to the Express Company. Two thousand dollars reward is offered for the capture of Bear and recovery of the money.

Cattle Stampede at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 30.—Early this morning cattle landed from the International ferry boat stampeded through the streets, trampling everything in the way. A man was thrown into a wagon and a woman fatally gored. A number of persons were more or less injured. Five or six of the infuriated animals were shot by the citizens. A portion of the drove is still at large in the suburbs.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

PHOENIXVILLE, Aug. 30.—A boiler in the Phœnix Company's Iron Works exploded this morning, killing ten to twenty of the workmen and injuring as many more. Five dead bodies were taken from the ruins. The wildest excitement exists among the wives and children of the wounded.

The first report of the explosion at Phœnixville was exaggerated. Four men were injured, two so badly that they cannot recover. A portion of the building was torn away and other damage caused.

Mob at Scranton, Pa.

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 30.—From a thousand to fifteen hundred men from the coal fields north and south of this city, arrived to-day by rail and wagons with the avowed purpose to prevent the coal miners of the Delaware, Lackawannie and Western Company from continuing work. They are now holding the second meeting, but have taken no forcible action so far. A meeting of citizens has been held at a call to protect the miners. Volunteers are fast enrolling. A meeting of the Select Council was called this evening, and much excitement prevails.

Fruits of "Democracy" in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 30.—Nearly a hundred negroes came here from the neighborhood of Rutherford county. They report that they were driven from home by lawless whites. These negroes have been working on shares with planters, and they as well as the planters will lose heavily if they are not protected in securing the crop. Well known planters in that neighborhood are trying to secure protection for themselves and negroes in their employ. Bands of outlaws are also operating in a similar manner in Summer county. The Governor's proclamation warning them may have some effect, but the planters will probably have to form combinations for self-protection.

MEMPHIS, Aug. 30.—We have had a fine rain the entire afternoon. The prospect is that the end of the heated term is at hand.

Miscellaneous.

TOLEDO, Aug. 30.—Conrad Mies is sentenced to be hanged November 5th, for the murder of Solomon.

BINGHAMTON, Aug. 30.—Several houses and barns near here were struck by lightning on Saturday evening. No lives were lost.

Canada News.

QUEBEC, Aug. 30.—It is rumored that the intended removal of troops from this station is postponed.

CHARLOTTETOWN, N. S., Aug. 30.—General Holladay held a reception to-day in honor of Prince Arthur. Five hundred persons were present.

Cuban Affairs.

HAVANA, Aug. 30.—Domingo Ferrero, a member of the Vigilance Committee, appointed by the Governor to enforce the collection of customs has been dismissed for engaging in contraband traffic.

Letters from the jurisdiction of Colon state that the insurgents have left that quarter and are going east, taking with them all the slaves on San Antonio estate.

Governor Trillos in Sagua La Grande surprised the insurgents at Encrucijada, and killed 12.

A TeDum is ordered to be sung in the churches of Puerto Principe, for the disappearance of cholera.

Captain Urcala with one hundred men killed ten insurgents and took thirteen prisoners near Cubitas, in the jurisdiction of Puerto Principe.

The Diario in an editorial giving the semi-monthly review of the situation regrets the inability to send flattering news regarding the suppression of the insurrection, but reiterates that the Spanish are completely in the ascendency in several jurisdictions of the Eastern and Central Departments.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Times says there is much anxiety in respect to French intelligence. Napoleon is certainly ill, and though none spoke of any imminent danger, there was the utmost uneasiness in Parisian circles, and on the Bourse a panic. The intense interest felt on Thursday has been so since. Though the alarm is now subsiding, the news is still confused and contradictory. Public opinion refuses to be reassured. We have no right to lay great stress on the Emperor's ill disposition, but we hardly believe the rumors are the result of stock stratigems. We don't think any good end can be served by any stubborn denial of the fact that the Emperor's sickness is not without reason. Physicians attend daily. It is satisfactory to hear he is able to transact business.

The Independence Belge asserts that the Emperor Napoleon is confined to his bed by a chronic malady, but his present attack is not of an alarming character.

It is reported from Rome that fifty Bishops only have declined to attend the Ecumenical Council.

Authentic details of the war in Paraguay have been received. No operation have been made by allies against the forces of Lopez in the mountains, nor have the Paraguayans offered opposition.

The Times in its Manchester cotton trade report says it is admitted that the returns of sales of cotton at Liverpool for every day last week show figures really augmented to but little more than half those given the public as the result. There is something like a panic at Manchester. For the present there is no confidence in the truth of the returns from Liverpool, and no disposition to do business either on the part of sellers or buyers.

The article in the Atlantic Monthly, by Mrs. Stowe, on Lord and Lady Byron, creates considerable excitement. The Telegraph comments editorially and says that without further explanation this fearful story cannot be accepted as true. The Post says the question arises whether, in the absence of authority, this article can be relied on as Lady Byron's own statement.

The Pall Mall Gazette reports that in one large village of Russia, 1,700 persons, members of the new fanatical sect, burned themselves to death.

Mapo, a farmer of Newport, was yesterday shot and killed by an assassin. The act is regarded as an agrarian outrage. The murderer has not yet been arrested.

Stuart, British Minister to the Argentine Confederation, in a dispatch dated Buenos Ayres, July 20, says Gen. McMahon, United States Minister in Paraguay, had arrived there. He reports that he left British subjects in the service of Lopez in good health and well satisfied with their condition and treatment, and not anxious to leave. He reports that with him large sums of money arrived there for parties in England and the United States. He states that in some cases President Lopez made them advances to enable them to provide for friends at home. Gen. McMahon was to leave soon for England, bearing letters and messages he has been commissioned to deliver.

PARIS, Aug 30.—The following news is official: The condition of the Emperor grows more satisfactory.

Regulations for the navigation of the Suez canal are published, and they state that the canal will be open for vessels of all nationalities with a draft of less than seven and a half metres.

The suspension of a bank in Vienna is announced. The name is not yet ascertained.

HONG KONG 5, via LONDON, Aug. 30.—Reports of the massacre of Christians and Missionaries in the province of Szchuen are confirmed. Twenty are known to have been killed by the populace. The Pekin government has instituted an inquiry into these outrages.

PESTH, Aug. 30.—The Supreme Court has approved the impeachment of Prince Kara Georgeovich, for the assassination of the late Prince of Servia, but permitted him, under heavy bail, to leave prison in order to prepare for his death.

MADRID, Aug. 30.—Gen. Prim has had no interview with Napoleon, but has been promised an audience as soon as the latter recovers from his illness.

Gen. Isquerdo has resigned the office of Captain General of New Castile.

VIENNA, Aug. 30.—Baron Beust to-day closed the session of the Austrian and Hugarian delegation. In a speech he announced that he was authorized to give the Emperor's sanction to the resolutions they had respectively adopted. Their proceedings, he said, would fix attention upon affairs and contribute to the maintainance of peace.

Political Parties in Virginia.

[From the Boston Advertiser.]

The following letter was addressed to a gentleman in this vicinity by a citizen of Virginia who stands high in the confidence of the old and tried Union men of that state, and expresses as we believe, the views of Governor Wells and the Wells Republicans with greater fullness and detail than has yet been laid before the northern public. The assurances given by Governor Walker, both before and since his election, do not justify the criticism passed upon him in this letter, and it will be easy for him, when the Legislature assembles, to prove beyond controversy whether it is warranted or no. With this explanation we print the letter as we have received it from the gentleman to whom it was addressed:

RICHMOND, Aug. 7, 1869.

My Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., as also of the Boston Daily Advertiser which you were kind enough to send. The perusal of the leading editorial has given much pleasure, not only because of its truthfulness and ability, but especially for the reason that it is well calculated to remove the misapprehension which exists in northern minds in relation to the true condition of political affairs in Virginia. Perhaps one of the most serious mistakes made by us, in the late campaign, was in neglecting to circulate true information through the northern press. We foolishly supposed that we of Virginia were fighting the battle never once dreaming that the leading northern journals would be found on the side of the enemy, uttering from their distant points of observation doctrines and sentiments first fatal to us, and then ruinous to the Republican party everywhere. We see it now, and with more wisdom than has characterized us, propose in the future to correct the errors already committed, and, as far as possible, to give truer and more reliable information to the northern people.

In this contest there were two primary parties, the Wells Republicans and the Walker Democrats. The former embraced Union men white and black, men born in the State and those who had adopted the State as their future home, all uniting in their faith in the principles of the Republican party, yielding always an unswerving fidelity both to its principles and to the national administration. The most cardinal principle of our faith was that the triumph and success of the Republican party was essential alike to reconstruction, restoration, peace, and prosperity. On that platform, and guided by those views we entered upon a canvass distinguished for its vigor and bitterness. The other embraced all of the original secessionists, whether Whigs or Democrats,—the men who did not believe in either the Government of the United States or Republicanism. Before entering upon this canvass, the last named organization, after a careful survey of the whole field, was impressed with these facts: that no party calling itself secession or Democratic could succeed; that open opposition to colored suffrage or the right to be voted for, which the right of voting carries with it, or to the Constitution, would insure defeat; that success in the election, if it should give them the Legislature as well as the State ticket, would within a short time enable the gentlemen controlling this organization to accomplish the same results which the Democratic party, if successful under its old name, could hope to achieve. Ordinary sagacity would indicate to any body of men recognising these facts what their policy in politics should be, and therefore it was that some time in November last this party began to cast about for the best means of securing an overthrow of the Republican party. The effort ripened in the bringing forward of Gilbert C. Walker as the candidate of that party for Governor. He possessed the qualifications which their necessities demanded, in an eminent degree. He was born in New York, had recently come to the State,—incidents which made it easy and convenient for those gentlemen to insist that they were not waging war against men who had settled here since the war. He was an old-line Democrat; his character in that particular was fully stated by his former law partner in New York. He had lived in Chicago for several years prior to 1865, while there was a bitter partisan, not even a war Democrat, and was Chairman of an organization known as the "Democratic Invincibles."

Such was his political history down to the period when he reached Virginia. Could any man trained in the Democratic faith doubt that one with such a record would be a perfectly safe agent in whose hands to intrust the execution of Democratic policies and measures? Would he after the election be at all embarrassed by what he might have said before it? Or would his old party associates have any hesitation in relying upon his falsifying those statements when party purposes required? They were not, however, tied up to even this necessity, because in 1867 the same gentleman had been nominated by the conservatives of Norfolk as their candidate for the State convention. He accepted the nomination, ran against the Republican candidates, received every single secession vote, but not one Republican, black or white, voted for him. It would, however, have been altogether in vain to have nominated Mr. Walker by the conservative party as a distinct organization. It was not difficult to find among the hundred thousand Republicans a handful of men who had heretofore acted with the Republican party who would be willing to be made much of, and with a reasonable prospect of success and large promises for the future could be induced to allow their names to be used, and to devote their efforts in bringing forward the new candidate with the new organization, especially when the body of the new party agreed to accept without any reservations whatever any platform of principles they might choose to dictate. These men were found and came forward, and brought the name of Mr. Walker as their candidate for Governor. They choose to adopt the name of "True Republican," but might as well have taken any other cognomen: for, of the whole number that signed the original call for this movement, not five had ever voted the Republican ticket. They boldly boasted, however, that they would be able to carry a majority of the white Republicans, and at least fifty thousand of the colored members of that party, but they did not in fact poll a thousand white Republican votes in the State, but did succeed by fraud, intimidation and the like appliances in obtaining somewhere from two to five thousand colored votes, but of that whole number it is very doubtful indeed whether one thousand knowingly and willingly voted their ticket.

A very significant fact is exhibited by comparing the vote of 1867 with the vote of 1869. The whole number of votes cast in 1867 for the convention was one hundred and seven thousand three hundred and forty-two, while Gov. Wells, as the Republican candidate, received one hundred and one thousand two hundred and forty-three votes in the last election. It will be rembered in this connection that there was no distinctive political question at issue in the election of 1867. The vote was simply as to whether we should have a constitutional convention at all or not. All men, of every political complexion, who desired that any steps should be taken for the restoration of the State under the reconstruction acts voted for a constitutional convention. It would be a low estimate to say that not eighty thousand of the one hundred and seven thousand who voted for the constitutional convention were Republicans, or ever expected to be. While in the last election every man of the hundred and one thousand was not only a Republican, but of the strictest sort. They voted for the party, its principles and its nominees, under such a fire of abuse, detraction, intimidation and threats, as no other body of voters was ever subjected to, and but for the unscrupulousness of these infamous measures at least twenty-five thousand voters, white and black, who desire the peaceful settlement of the disturbed affairs of Virginia, would have placed themselves on the side of the Republican party.

The success of what was known as the new movement is now history, but it happens, as frequently has been the case in the history of other parties and in other times, that when a victory has been won by fraud and deception the victor finds himself sadly embarrassed by the consequences of his fraud and deception. To-day the Walker party embraces three parties—all original secessionists, or perhaps more accurately, all that remains of the old Democratic party, numbering about three quarters of all the votes cast for Mr. Walker; they are represented by the Richmond Examiner and papers of that class. Next, a very respectable number of persons, many of them gentlemen of character and intelligence, the beggarly remnant of that grand old Whig party; and last, least and most insignificant in character, numbers and strength, those who left this Republican party. Each of these elements has its separate designs, and one of them its separate organization. The original secession Democrats, under the leadership of Raleigh T. Daniels, chairman of their State Central Committee, acting through their committee, from time to time, as the canvass progressed, issued instructions to their partisans, and are doing so still; their object was and is to break up the Republican party, to found upon its ruins, and with themselves as its central figure, a new organization of the Democratic party; nor do they propose to confine the field of their operation to Virginia, but after doing it first to Tennessee, as they have already done, then to Texas and Mississippi, afterwards to each of the borders States, finally to all of the States of the Union heretofore rasped politically as doubtful States, they propose to present their union of Democratic States to the national Democratic party, and with it carry on the canvass in 1872.

There is perhaps no State of the Federal Union in which there was more bitterness between the Whig and Democratic organizations than in Virginia; nor has the last eight years of mingled war, sorrow, poverty, wretchedness and disaster removed to any great degree this bitterness of feeling; it is therefore natural enough that the old whigs that have temporarily acted with the Walker party should look not only with distrust but with horror upon the proposition of a scheme which aims at the reinstatement of the Democracy in the control of national and State affairs. These gentlemen are represented by the Richmond Whig, and while both of these papers at present give a somewhat uncertain sound the Examiner is clearly foreshadowing the Democratic plan, while the Whig is as clearly and decidedly putting forth their policy, which is to make a new party embracing the hundred thousand Republicans and the twenty or more thousand Whigs. The third element of this party—Democrats has scarcely anything that can be dignified with the name of a principle. They would not be willing to aid in the permanent success of the Democracy, but would, in the future as they have been in the past, be instrumentalities in the hands of the Whigs to accomplish their ulterior purposes of a new party.

But the real fact is that there can be but two parties in any cause worthy of the name and dignity of an organization. One is the Republican party with its solid foundation of principles, its liberalities, and its enduring purposes to secure the principles of equality and justice which lie at the foundation of Republican institutions, and independent of which there can be no lasting republic; the other is the Democratic party, brought to life again with new activities addressed to the reviving of old issues, exploded theories and Scenery of Japan.

A correspondent of the Alta California, recently arrived in Japan, gives the following account of its scenery:

To any one who has never experienced what it is to strike the soil of a new continent I should fail to describe the keen emotion, akin to romance, with which, on the twenty-second morning out, I hung over the railing of the steamer China, and saw for the first time the coast of Japan, the terraced hills sloping down to the sea, and Fusiyama, the sacred mountain of the Japanese, rising more gradually than Vesuvius rises above the bay of Naples—its cone-shaped summit covered with eternal snow.

As we steamed up the bay, those strange objects which make Japan the most interesting country in the world to visit began to meet our view. Flat-bottomed boats, propelled by oars formed of two pieces of plank lashed together, crowded around the ship; the backs and arms of the boatmen, many of whom were almost entirely naked, were tattooed with figures of wild animals and various fantastic representations. Several officers, each wearing two swords, made their appearance; and in a sail-boat, which swept by the bow of the vessel, we caught our first glimpse of a Japan—Lady.

I can never too much admire the freshness of the verdure and richness and variety of the foliage along the shore. The constant rains and moist atmosphere produce a vegetation which like that of England only incomparably greener and more luxuriant. Many little inlets along the coast and slopes on the hill-sides form pictures worthy of the pencil of Bierstadt. The charm of all is the exquisite blending of tropical with northern vegetation which is met with all through Japan; the bamboo, orange, fig and palm intermingled with the larch, beech, live oak and pine. Japan is especially rich in the coniferæ, and many new varieties have been discovered. Every available spot is under cultivation; the houses of the country people peep from among the green trees; the gorges of the mountains are filled with luxuriant under-growth, and in many places the grand sweep of the Tokaido, or Royal Road, which extends throughout the kingdom, between rows of grand old trees, equals the avenues of Hyde Park or Versailles. I do not wonder at that, on account of its luxuriant vegetation and perpetual verdure, Japan has been styled the Ceylon of Northern Asia.

Pertinent Questions.

There is a Caucasian Society in San Francisco—a Society organized to protect the 120,000 Caucasians there from being overwhelmed by the 20,000 Mongolians and Africans—and also to prevent the 38,000,000 white people of the United States from being oppressed by the 60,000 Asians now on this coast! These people put forth certain questions to somebody which in substance amounted to this:

Have you ever bought smelts of a Chinaman on Fridays?

Will you promise never to repeat such an outrage on Caucasians?

Did you ever eat shrimps, dry, in lunches worth had been collected by Chinamen?

Did you ever have a shirt washed, and did you employ a Chinaman to wash it?

Will you promise never to allow another Chinaman to blow water on your shirt?

Did your wife ever purchase a pound of tea of a Chinese peddler?

Did you ever kill a rat?

Did you have the carc[illegible] of the rat where it could be obtained by a Chinaman for stew or [illegible]?

Would you [illegible] yourself that if you are ever [illegible] you'll kill another rat you will feed it to a Chinaman for cat?

Do you [illegible] cook?

[illegible] Chin[illegible] it cheaper?

[illegible] the Gov[illegible] about it?

[illegible] Gov[illegible]'s letter [illegible] for his ab[illegible]

[illegible] to eat and drink at such a restaurant [illegible] though Gov. Haight and Senator [illegible] should attend?

Will you refuse to ride over any railroad [illegible] in whole or in part by Chinese labor that Prieto[illegible]

M. Thiers, in one of his conferences with his friends at the late elections, made the following important prophecy. It is given to us by one of our regular Paris correspondents who was present and heard it:

"He said, 'It is nothing toward [illegible] but you young men must not despair. By the faults of Government [illegible] which we yield when they ought to be firm and sometimes resist when they should only curb and direct, this century will [illegible] the period of transition, a transition which will be bloody, terrible, and which I pray God I am not to see. The blending of social and political, of interior and exterior [illegible] is such at this period that nations [illegible] to decide all questions by suppression of all. But violent suppression and sovereign [illegible] are two things, and shift them as you will, [illegible] questions will still exist as threatening as ever. It is only when the New World, which already [illegible] the flanks of the Old, shall have acquired [illegible] quantity of virility and of [illegible] to vanquish and to decide, that an entire and Republic will bring back order and peace to our society. The youngest of you will see the prologue to the civilization of this [illegible] century.'

This is very significant language in the mouth of M. Thiers, who has no partiality for Republicanism, and less if possible for the American Republic. It would seem that the old statesman begins to despair of Orleanism, and of any dynastic consolidation of power in France.—N. Y. Times.

THE UNHOLY DESIRE TO DRESS.—You wish to [illegible] your wife better than your circumstances will allow. She wants to have you. She is a woman of spirit, as it is said, and she does not [illegible] to be a drudge.

"Why should our neighbors," she says to her husband, "do [illegible] any better than we? They are made of the same flesh and blood that we are. See how they come out. I don't think a man of any spirit would let his wife and children go to church dressed as you let us go. Look at these children. You would think that they had just come out of some slop-house! If I had married as I might have married, we should have had different times—I and my children!"

How many men are stung to the quick by such [illegible] from their wives! Oftentimes their moral [illegible] revolts at first, and they feel indignant. But [illegible] "A rolling weare a stone," and by and by the man [illegible] and a little better than he can afford, and his wife and children are dressed a little better than he can afford, and somebody must pay for the extravagance. I do not say that they are tempted to steal; but I do say that they grind. They mean somehow to get it out of [illegible]. They intend to make one hand wash the other somehow, and they go into petty manœuvres to bring it about. And this desire to dress better than they can afford is taking off the very enamel of their virtue, and taking out the very stamina of their religious life. Unimportant as it seems, ostentatious vanity in dress has ruined many a family.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, who remained in Tennessee during the whole of the late election canvass, sends from Knoxville some of his observations since the time of voting. He says that two thirds of those voters who were enfranchised by Senter's registration, and help to make up his majority, hold illegal certificates as voters and yet as legal voters. The law gives the register complete authority to give certificates, and once given they are unimpeachable titles to vote. It thus puts it wholly in the power of the registers to carry elections, and the registers being appointed by the Governor, the latter has unlimited power to control the elections, and even to set aside the registration of a county entirely when it does not please him. The correspondent thinks that the general result is satisfactory to all liberal minded men, and the only chagrin is because Senter profits by his own treachery, the Stokes men feeling satisfied at the crushing defeat of the Senter Republicans who were candidates for the Legislature. It is stated that four-fifths of the Republicans voted for Stokes. This is illustrated by the vote given in the Republican county of Sevier for "floater." Colonel Brownlow, a son of the Senator, was the Senter Republican candidate, and received ninety votes out of over nine hundred.

WHITE'S NEW MAP OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY!

WEST OF THE CASCADES.

OLYMPIA, W. T., May 24, 1869.

THE UNDERSIGNED WOULD RESPECTFULLY solicit subscriptions to enable them to publish a MAP OF WASHINGTON TERRITORY West of the Cascades, compiled from the United States Surveys and the best and latest authorities. The scale is four miles to an inch, making the map sixty seven by fifty one inches. In addition to the topography of the country, the map shows the extent of the Surveys, the Indian and Government Reserves, the Prairie lands, the soundings of the principal harbors, and many other particulars not given in previous maps. THE SUBSCRIPTION PRICE IS TEN DOLLARS; RETAIL PRICE, TWELVE DOLLARS. The map will be furnished, colored, mounted and complete, by August 1st. It was forwarded in March to the establishment of Colton & Co., New York, for publication.

Subscriptions may be forwarded to Joseph Cushman, Receiver Land Office, Olympia; W. C. Painter, Walla Walla; A. G. Cook, Vancouver; S. J. McCormick, Portland, who will receipt.

We call attention to the following endorsements

ENDORSEMENTS.

OLYMPIA, W. T., March 27, 1869.

C. A. WHITE, Esq.—Dear Sir,—Having examined your original map, embracing that portion of Washington Territory west of the Cascade Range, I desire to add my testimony to its value. Having been engaged for a number of years in the surveys from Cape Flattery to the Head of Puget Sound, I have examined this portion of your map more critically than others, and I take pleasure in vouching for its general correctness.

This map will fill a want that has long been felt, not only among the residents of this Territory, but others, who are desirous of obtaining information of this portion of the "Far West," and I trust that we shall soon see it in a form suitable for general distribution.

JAS. S. LAWSON,
Asst. U. S. C. S.

We endorse the annexed opinion of Jas. S. Lawson, Esq., and will add that Mr. Chas. A. White is a practical surveyor, and has had access to the township maps in the two Land Offices in this Territory, as also the Coast Survey charts; and we can vouch for his map of Washington Territory, west of the Cascade Range of Mountains, as being correct, and the only good map of the same territory that has been made.

OUR CITY.—The following is furnished us by a friend, an old resident of Portland, who has watched her rise and progress, and will be glad to see her continued and permanent prosperity:

"Portland lies sweetly on the Wallamet," wrote Bowles. She does that, and no city has more of the picturesque in her surroundings. The view through every long street terminates in the perennial green of the forests and extends up into the near foothills and distant mountains, all presided over by our magnificent Mount Hood.

Let us call her the Queen City of the Webfeet; we would say slope, but we are not sure that Oregon has a slope, or is included in that happy part of the world thus elegantly designated by the classical press of the Bay. But whether in Andrew Johnson's phraseology, we are "sloped," "gored," "snubbed" or "cabbaged" by the papers down the coast, we know there is here as much "whole cloth" out of which to make a country as the sun shines on anywhere near his going down.

This Queen of Oregon does rain in conscious power, though yet in her "teens." She is hopeful in commerce, letters, arts and wealth. Her rivals have long since subsided into ghostly habitations of bats and owls. Do not the "wise men of the East," attracted by her brilliant star of promise, even now "do her reverence?" Is she not arrayed in gorgeous apparel of "purple and fine linen," and has she not in her cantenas "barbaric gold" to keep safe and sound, until the next steamer goes out? Since the late blessed shower of rain, are not her ways the "ways of pleasantness," especially the Nicolson end of Front street that runs clear out to the "White House," while her paths of spunding fir plank lead out among squares of miniature paradises, and also among any number of pandemoniums as well? Her tongues are legion, all countries in the world contributing to the very Babel, daily din in our ears.

Is it not that this nascent city at its "burning" was christened by Pettygrove, who inspired himself with a name by throwing up a chip, the piece of coin generally used on such occasions, being then scarcer than whisky. Boston or Portland was to be honored on this periphery of the continent. The "Hub" lost her chance and has regretted ever since.

The other sponsors were Couch, Stark, Lovejoy, Coffin, Lee and Chapman, venerable names, a combination of talent fully equal to the ponderous task of founding a new city in the gigantic forest of firs, one hundred miles from the sea. What Whitcomb at Milwaukie, McCarver at Linton, Crosby and Smith at St. Helens, Johns at St. John and Capt. Kilbourn at Norwich, now Brooklyn, could not do at their respective places, saying nothing about Dr. White at Bakers Bay, these indomitable men accomplished here, "as easy as falling off a log."

Verily the dispersion and downfall of Babylon, had they held the administrative oar, would have met with moral and physical, of remarkable efficacy in those dreadful events. If there is any virtue in laconics, or ordering out the militia, or in capturing the runagates under the fugitive slave law, these might have been applied. But, what force could not effect, strategy could. The modern remedy of a strong emigration Society might then have reversed the tide of departing recruits and safely corralled them within the walls of Babylon on Euphrates.

The topography of the country, the course of trade and the flight of birds, the entrails of animals, and all the inexorable powers of mind all contributed to the great result.

In reasoning upon the adaptation of genius to the exigency of events in the early post-diluvian ages, it is curious to reflect upon the probable result, had those illuminati been upon the plain of Shinar when the impious tower was built. Whether their hydrophobia would have driven them to keep on building to the moon, by piling up the scaffold after them, or not, is yet open to debate. It is obvious however, that had they effected a lodgment, even the "man in the moon" would have lost half his "claim." The dissention law could not have affected him as he is evidently only a bachelor.

Our times may have been the day-dreams of the projectors of the town it is certain that a great commercial city was not one of them. The homeopathic size of the squares, the blocking up of the river bank with wharves and shanties with rear fronts to the bay, the waste of space for municipal and governmental use, and grounds for health and recreation, indicate no large ideas of the requirements of an expanded city. Whatever was done in the beginning in that direction, was thwarted by greed, the law and a [illegible] on the part of the public authorities. The National Government granted the site, reserving no ground for its own use, and has now purchased a custom house, etc. The city owns no site for any public building except a market block, which was saved out of the wreck of the stage and not recaptured by the wreckers. The City Council holds its meetings in rented rooms. The village bathing.

So far our hospitals, reform schools and other large[illegible] of older cities, except public cemeteries, we have three admirable ones they are all yet in embryo. It is some consolation that the site for this place is ample for all such to come in good time after the present generation shall make up its mind to die. It is possible a decent cemetery may be provided by the city for the repose of its dead, without being driven now to a private corporation for that privilege, on the other side of our Jordan. But "art is long" and time is short. Progress and improvement have no limit. Just now our minds are fevered by hops and excited for the grand future of Portland and Oregon in it. It is a good time now for homilies upon the higher and best interest of society, in all its [illegible]. The mere aggregation of people, or the spread of the place into the foot-hills, across and up the river, is not greatness, without reference to organization for their best welfare, and without a wise forecast in securing peace, good order, good government and a true Christian civilization. Great cities are a great curse to the nation, fostering as they do all sins and social crime to an extent unknown in country life.

—The Salem Unionist makes the following [illegible] of a well known Spiritualist of Oregon, [illegible]:

"Miss Ellen Byerly was married while quite young to [illegible], received from his father a handsome [illegible] and took up her residence with him in New Zealand. There, his wife writes, they would have done well, only he took a roving disposition, abandoned her, and went on a vessel for Puget Sound. His wife and other friends took great pains to trace the unworthy scamp, finally to the house of a Methodist pastor at Portland, having heard that he was in that city. When that gentleman discovered that he had found a wife, had married a young lady in Tryon, at Oswego, and bloomed into a fall-grown lecturer. He had taken pains, it seems, to have it sent to England, reported to have been found on a dead body floating in the river. The [illegible] showed the man as no other than himself, for having married and changed his name he wanted to stop further inquiries. Money sent to him by his father was returned through the dead letter office, with a rather remarkable—if true—for he was [illegible] to appropriate money. The letters of the [illegible] are [illegible] as now. They are written [illegible], and the writer has evidently had good advantages. She and her husband, she says, were raised [illegible] Sunday School.

Last week he attempted to run away with a young girl who lives in Marion county, and failed only because he had not [illegible] more than sufficient to pay his own way to the State.

BOAT RACE.—Another boat race in this city is talked of, to take place before winter sets in.

A match game of base ball will be played by the North Pacific club with any other club which will go to Port Orford. We guess the Pioneers could beat them, but as they will go so far we are unable to say.

The late rains have made the roads slippery. The stage arrives here an hour or two later in consequence.

The river at this place has not risen perceptibly by reason of the showers.

A few of the trees set on the plains last spring are dead, but the most of them are growing finely.

We heard that an upset, but of nobody seriously hurt, occurred on the White House road yesterday.

Sales of real estate in this city during the week ending to-day, as shown by the county record, amount to over $50,000.

The Active Elwood is daily expected, although as yet no positive information that she has been able to cross the bar.

A MAN IN EAST PORTLAND.—An unearthly caterwauling, we learn, has been heard in East Portland for a night or more past, in seeming as if all the feline tribe had caught a portion of madness from proximity to the Asylum, and were wailing and shrieking through the region of the terminus of Holladay's railroad. The people there, and, we believe, are still in amount of the cause of the [illegible] such a host of cats. But we learned [illegible] long were they came from. A printer in this city whose slumbers had been "muchly" disturbed by the "screechers" employed a man to bag a few of them. The man "went after" them, and kept on until he had "nine cats in a sack." These he transported and colonized in East Portland, which has caused all the fuss over there with cats.

LOOK AGAIN.—It is becoming quite a common remark that the street lamps, especially those back of Third, are more of just about as much benefit as so many lightning bugs would be. They are in many instances not lit or else "flicker out" before the night is half gone. We are not prepared to say where the fault lies, but there is evidently something that isn't done just as it should be, or [illegible] would not have to grope their way home through the darkness, amid lamp posts that stand on many but from which comes not a single ray of light to illuminate some of the mud-holes which are not so scarce now. "Let there be light."

FROM SALEM.—The Unionist of yesterday says.

On [illegible] July last 05,100ths of an inch of rain fell at Salem. This on top of that which fell on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, has wet the ground to a depth of eight inches.

D. A. Miller and wife left on Monday morning for the East. A. A. McCully and family are to leave on Tuesday morning, to go overland through Idaho.

Moore, Witten & Miller have purchased a building lot on Liberty street, adjoining Reed's block, and work is already done for the foundation, and brick being [illegible] for a new building.

OREGON CITY ITEMS.—Last Sunday evening before it was yet dark, some thief went into the saloon of Paul Reiby, through a rear window, and breaking open a trunk abstracted therefrom the sum of $330 in gold coin. No one has been arrested, though suspicion has fastened upon a man who fled to the mouth of Sandy and thence took passage for the Dalles. He will doubtless be intercepted and brought back.

The funeral of the daughter of Capt. Pease was largely attended from the Congregational Church, where services were held on the occasion by Rev. E. R. Geary.

PERSONAL.—Hon. E. Garfield, Delegate to Congress from Washington Territory, took his departure for the Capital by the steamer Oriflamme yesterday evening.

Hon. J. G. Wilson, Judge of the Fifth Judicial District of Oregon, came down from the Dalles, yesterday, on his way to the approaching term of the Supreme Court, at Salem.

W. B. Carter, Esq., editor of the Gazette arrived in this city from Corvallis last evening.

VOLUNTEER.—This document will be found on the fourth page.

ASSESSMENT ROLL.—The County Assessor informs us that the roll for 1869 will be open at the Court House and that he will be in attendance there during the present week to readjust assessments and make all proper corrections in the valuation or ownership of property. It would save much trouble and some expense if all tax payers would improve this opportunity of having their corrections made. We assure them that they will find Mr. Buford very courteous and ready to make all proper amendments to the roll.

BENEFICIAL.—"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and while the farmers who have grain yet in the field regret the continued shower of rain, the steamboat men are rejoicing over the prospect of a rise in the river that will very materially facilitate navigation. This is especially desirable on the upper Willamette. The P. T. Company have had much difficulty in going above Salem for some time, and only by a dint of perseverence have they been able to run their boats with regularity at all.

MR. SEWARD.—This eminent statesman, we are informed, will leave for the Dalles this morning. He will occupy two or three days in his trip up the Columbia, after which he will return to our city and go up to Salem returning again to Portland. After his return he will be glad to meet the citizens of this place on some convenient occasion. We have no doubt he will meet with the heartiest reception by the people wherever he goes.

CALLERS.—A number of our leading citizens called on the Hon. W. H. Seward, at the residence of Mr. Holladay, evening before last and yesterday. The great man received them with the utmost suavity of manner and expressed pleasure at the numerous evidences of the general prosperity of the country witnessed by him in his present extended trip.

MILITARY.—By order from Headquarters, Department of the Columbia, leave of absence for twenty days, with permission to apply at Headquarters Military Division for an extension of sixty days from September 1st, is granted Brevet Lieut. Col. H. R. Wirtz, Surgeon.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—This afternoon at two o'clock, in front of the Court House door, lots 5, 6, 7 and 8 in block 150, will be sold at auction by A. B. Richardson. The property is very desirable, and those wishing to purchase should attend the sale.

FANNIE THORPE.—This steamer has changed her place of landing to the American Exchange wharf, at the foot of Washington street, and persons wishing to go to Vancouver will govern themselves accordingly.

CLAY STREET.—Persons owning real estate on this street are requested to pay the assessments now due for improving the same within fifteen days, or warrants will issue.

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!—MRS. C. LEVY has just received per steamer Oriflamme, via Pacific Railroad from New York, the first shipment of STAPLE and FANCY DRY GOODS for the Fall Trade; and as they are direct from first hands she is enabled to offer them at unprecedentedly Low Prices.

Use KANE'S IMPERIAL CONDENSED SOAP. It washes without rubbing. For sale by Allen & Lewis, Corbitt & McCleay, R. G. Sneath and all retailers.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

In Wyoming Territory the following nominations have just been made for Delegate in Congress: Republican, W. W. Corlett; Democratic, S. F. Nuckolls.

While Pendleton is stumping Ohio in favor of new issues and indefinite continuance of greenbacks, the New York World has the visage to announce that its party is the "Hard Money Party" of the country.

An exchange says that "a son of the last Whig President of the United States, and an ex-Confederate Brigadier General, lives in a dilapidated house in Washington, in a state of moral and physical degradation, supported by a poor colored woman."

A letter from South Carolina says that a Chinese immigration agent has been in that State for some weeks past, and has made contracts with a number of planters there to furnish them with Chinese laborers by the first of the new year. One rice planter has contracted for 250 Chinamen to substitue for his negroes.

The Democrats have the canals of New York under their control. The result is that the Erie canal has entirely ceased to be a route for the inland commerce of the country. The tolls have to be paid at so high a rate that the transportation men in large numbers hauled off the boats, and the railroads are doing the business to a great extent.

The Memphis (Tenn.) Post (Republican) says: "For United States Senator there will be a multitude of candidates. Governor Senter, ex-President Johnson, Emerson Etheridge, Bailie Peyton and ex-Governor Neil S. Brown are already spoken of. It is probable that Emerson Etheridge will be elected Speaker of the State Senate; and, then, by sending Governor Senter as United States Senator to Washington, Etheridge becomes Governor by virtue of his Speakership, and the Executive, as well as the legislative branches of the government, will be in the hands of the Democracy."

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

TO SALOON KEEPERS and DEALERS IN SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS:

We particularly call your attention to Sec. 43 of the Internal Revenue Laws, in relation to the cancellation of stamps on empty packages:

Whenever you draw off or empty a package of liquor that has upon it an Inspector's Stamp, be sure to obliterate or deface the stamp.

We give you this caution to save you trouble or expense, and perhaps fine, believing that the majority of dealers have not been informed, and are unaware of the consequences resulting from a violation of the above mentioned section of the Law.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 1, 1869.

Democratic Thunder Silenced.

Not long ago we remarked that "the Republican party has added no inducement for the Chinese to come to this country, which did not exist when that party obtained control of the Government." The Oregon City paper, whose editor always sees a Chinaman directly in the path of the superior race, opposing its progress towards prosperity and honorable distinction, takes issue with this statement, and succeeds very fairly in showing its ignorance of national affairs. The last treaty between this country and China, which has gone into effect, is the treaty that was formed under Mr. Buchanan's administration on the 18th June, 1858. Nor is there any legislation now which gives Chinese advantages in this country that they did not possess ten years ago. Perhaps these statements may astonish those enlightened intellects in Oregon who have been manifesting during the last two or three years such a terrible fear of the Chinese. The Chinaman, then, in this country has exactly the status which was given him by the Democratic party. The Republican party has not changed that status in any particular. If that party has changed it, we would thank the Democratic press of Oregon to show in what respect it has been done.

The Oregon City paper would doubtless answer that by the treaty recently formed new advantages are given to the Chinese in this country. We reply in the first place that that treaty has not yet been concluded and is not the law of the land; and more than that, recent cable dispatches inform us that the Chinese Government has rejected the treaty which has been a source of so much distress to the Democracy of our Pacific States. In the next place, if it were the law of the land it would merely confirm the Chinese in their right as aliens to trade or transact business here, without any of the privileges of citizenship. This right, however, is one which they have been enjoying already for twenty years.

The Oregon City paper, supposing that this treaty has been ratified and is now in force, cites the following which is asserted to be a part of it, as proof that the Radicals have offered great inducements to the Chinese to come to this country:

> The United States freely agree that Chinese subjects shall, without hindrance on account of their nationality or religion, be admitted to all schools, colleges, and other public educational institutions, without being subject to any religious or political test.

To begin with, this is not a correct quotation from the treaty. The true copy of the article referred to reads:

> Citizens of the United States shall enjoy all the privileges of the public educational institutions under the control of the Government of China, and reciprocally Chinese subjects shall enjoy all the privileges of the public educational institutions under the control of the Government of the United States which are enjoyed in the respective countries by the citizens or subjects of the most favored nation. The citizens of the United States may establish and maintain schools within the ports of China, at those places where foreigners are by treaty permitted to reside, and, reciprocally, Chinese subjects may enjoy the same privileges and immunities in the United States.

That is, the United States proposed to give the Chinese the same rights at West Point and Annapolis that other nations have, in consideration of a similar favor for Americans in China. It was not proposed in the treaty to enforce the admission of Chinese into our schools and colleges, for the Government would have no right to do this; but it was simply stipulated that they should be admitted to the public educational institutions under control of the Government,"—i. e. to our military and naval schools. It will be seen that the Oregon City paper is compelled to misquote a rejected treaty, for the purpose of framing an argument to suit the demands of its party.

According to this authority the Chinese have been coming to America for some time past, not to work or trade, but to go to school! For have not the "Radicals" offered them this great inducement in regard to "schooling" which the Democracy would never have given them? We know at last what the object of the Mongols is in coming to America! Let us thank the Oregon City paper for another discovery!

Let it be remembered that this treaty which has been a source of so much tribulation to the Democracy was negotiated under the Democratic administration of Andrew Johnson. A Republican Senate refused to ratify it in the shape in which it was first presented and modified it in many particulars. In order that it might be expressly stipulated that Chinese could not claim the right of naturalization under the treaty, a clause was added to the sixth article declaring that "nothing herein contained shall be held to confer naturalization upon the citizens of the United States in China, or upon subjects of China in the United States." Yet it has been asserted that the treaty conferred citizenship on the Chinese, and there has been vehement opposition to it on this ground.

But it is useless to multiply words about a treaty which has been rejected. The rights which Chinese have in the United States now, as heretofore, are precisely those which were allowed them by the Democratic party, and none other; and there is no probability that any change whatever will be made in their status. We really don't know what the Democratic party here is to do now for an "issue." Such editors as he of the Oregon City organ have lost what Nasby would call their "best bolt." The Emperor of China has deprived them of their editorial thunder. Their only remaining resource would seem to be to fall back with Beriah Brown on the resolutions of '98.

Mr. Seward and Alaska.

Mr. Seward, during his stay in Alaska, visited many places of interest, of which he has given an account in his Sitka speech. His descriptions are extremely picturesque, and he is quite enthusiastic about the future of the country. The natives, learning that the great chief who had purchased the country had come among them, treated him with distinguished consideration and afforded him every advantage he could desire for making observations at all points he chose to visit. As he was the purchaser of the territory, they supposed he was the sole owner of it, and they were therefore anxious to meet him and render all the assistance in their power to enable him to take a look at his new possessions. With their aid he ascended several of the principal streams for considerable distances, and was enabled to acquire a stock of information relative to the country which will be a most important contribution to previous knowledge on the subject. He obtained many fine specimens of the products of the territory, embracing peltries in great variety, numerous kinds of timber with which the country abounds and many articles of Indian manufacture. Among his acquisitions is a lot of fine white cedar lumber, amounting to ten thousand feet, which he proposes to use in finishing a room in his house at Auburn. The description he gives of the lumbering and ship-building resources of Alaska are particularly interesting in an economical point of view; while his account of the mountains, rivers, glaciers and other natural curiosities, are of equal interest for lovers of the grand and sublime in nature. The timber of the country, as we learn from his description, is really quite astonishing. Contrary to the opinion generally held, he found that the trees do not dwindle in size toward the north, but that as far as he went they maintain their majestic proportions and vigorous growth. And so dense are the forests of evergreens that they are effectually protected against fires, which are the scourge and desolation of the forests of Oregon. We were not prepared to hear Gov. Seward "confess to a failure of ice as an element of territorial wealth" in the vicinity of Sitka, as we had supposed that the winters there were severe enough to furnish a supply of ice for the balance of the world. None of our readers, we are sure, will omit a perusal of this speech, since they will find in it within a small compass much more practical information in relation to Alaska than they have ever before been able to obtain.

In General.

An election will take place throughout California to-day (Wednesday) for county officers and members of the Legislature. The success of either party depends mainly on the result in San Francisco. The judicial election in the State will take place on the 20th October.

Cable dispatches state that Mrs. Stowe's article in the Atlantic on Lord Byron is creating a sensation in England. In this article Byron is accused of the crime of incest with a relative,—supposed to be his half-sister, Augusta Maria Leigh. Mrs. Stowe derived her statements from Lady Byron, who alleged that this horrible crime of her husband's was the cause of her separation from him.

"The allegations in the Herald's last Sunday leader remain undenied." So says the Herald. It is not necessary to deny the allegations of a paper which encourages and justifies perjury, and which vilifies and denounces courts of law and officers of the revenue because they do not accept the standard of morality which it has adopted. Allegations from such a source confute themselves.

The Boise Statesman of August 26th reports prodigious excitement throughout Idaho about the new mines on the head waters of the Payette river. The Statesman publishes letters from the "basin" in which it is claimed as the richest mining district ever found in the Territory. The same paper adds that "the excitement in Boise county has reached fever heat. Everybody has gone or is going. In fact the towns are almost deserted. Large amounts of merchandise have been sent from Idaho City, so there will be no lack of supplies."

OREGON.

From the Farmer: Mr. L. B. Judson of this county, sowed fifty-four pounds of Norway oats last spring. They had ordinary cultivation, were harvested with a grain cradle, and threshed by "tramping out" with horses. The yield was 87 bushels. It is to be hoped that parties having promising varieties of grain, some of which they intend to sell, will take them to the State Fair, so that farmers can see them and buy if they desire them.

The Unionist thinks that if Salem desires to continue in the annual enjoyment of the profits and emoluments which the State Fair brings to her doors, she would do well to make some preparations for those occasions. It therefore urges the citizens of that place to contribute a few hundred dollars towards boring an artesian well to supply the Fair Grounds with water. A good idea. We should hope that if good water could be had on the grounds it would be used to some extent, at all events, as a beverage.

On Saturday evening the City Council of Salem met to take steps toward inviting, Hon. W. H. Seward to visit Salem, and to make arrangements for his reception. Alderman Wade moved that the hospitalities of the city be tendered to Mr. Seward and party, and that a committee, consisting of the Mayor, three Aldermen and four citizens be appointed to make arrangements for the reception of the guest. The motion was adopted, and Mayor Scott, Aldermen Wade, Wright and Starkey were appointed as such committee. Hons. Geo. L. Woods, E. N. Cook, John F. Miller and L. F. Grover, were appointed to act with the committee.

The Farmer comes down on the people of Salem in this style: The citizens of Salem are indeed a happy people. Three times have a few persons gathered together in the name of the Immigrant Aid Society, to devise means to encourage the increase of population from the older States, and have as often adjourned to await the assembling of a larger number of citizens. Last evening, the time set for the third meeting, there were not enough present to render it an object to call the meeting to order, and it was adjourned sine die. We repeat that we are a happy people. Our population is large enough to make it a real luxury to live here, and no invitation is to be extended to strangers to settle in our midst. Oregon is "a good thing," we have got it all to ourselves, and why let anybody else know what a magnificent country it is?

THE WEST.

Horse thieves are again "plying their vocation" in Walla Walla valley.

The Alaska Times announces the arrival at Sitka of the schooner Langley from the "North." If Sitka be not the North, where is it?

Last week there were four marriages at Walla Walla. The week before there were four divorces. The matrimonial equilibrium seems to be pretty well maintained at that place.

The Virginia (Montana) Republican says: Tendoy, Chief of the Bannock Indians, is encamped with a hundred lodges near this city. He has had two interviews with Governor Ashley, and presented at each the claims which he makes upon the Government. His lands are gone; his tribe is broken; they have nothing, and they are starving.

A Montana paper says: At no time in the history of the Territory have we received such gratifying information concerning the permanency, richness and promise of our quartz lodes. It needs but a continuance of this experience by our mill men, to secure for the character of the Territory abroad, all that its most sanguine friends have ever promised.

A Walla Walla paper says: On Saturday last the little son of A. Seitel, aged about five years, met with a painful accident. The little fellow was playing around the room in which his mother was engaged at her household duties, and happening to stumble backwards, he fell into a tub of boiling water. The poor boy was so badly scalded that the skin peeled from the flesh on removing his clothes. Medical attention was at once secured, and although the boy's injuries are terrible, hopes are entertained of his recovery.

LEAD BARS.—From the smelting furnaces at Swansea, about two tons of metal is being shipped daily to San Francisco, and the amount will be increased to five tons daily, it is thought, within the next month. The cost of transportation to Elko is $20 per ton, and thence to San Francisco a similar amount is charged. The metal at the Bay is ready sale at eight cents per pound, leaving six cents per pound to cover the cost of mining and smelting. That there is big money in base metal ores at these figures, is no longer a question.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO AUGUST 31.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A special says the mutiny on the frigate Sabine is discredited. The Sabine had aboard sixty midshipmen of the last graduating class. It is believed that had such an attempt been made, the officers would have telegraphed from Cherbourg for instructions before hanging that number of seamen, and the State Department would have been notified of the event through the Consul. The absence of dispatches causes little faith to be placed in the story.

Stokes urges a general removal of Senter's officers in Tennessee. He has filed a list in the Postoffice Department and one in the Treasury, which he hopes to have acted upon this week. The plans of the Stokes men are regarded as of the most extreme character by the officials to whom they have been submitted. They involve the eventual recognition of Stokes and his Legislature as the choice of the legal voters of Tennessee.

Great Fair at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Aug. 31.—The preparations for an International Exposition are being rapidly brought to a conclusion on the grounds adjoining the Skating Pond, which are being enclosed. The Treasury Department has instructed the Collector of Customs to admit duty free, from Canada, articles for exhibition under bonds for sixty days.

Albany Dispatch.

ALBANY, Aug. 31.—A number of witnesses were examined yesterday, on the Susquehanna Railroad receivership question. The examination has been adjourned till the 15th of September. Judge Hogeboom holds a special term of the Supreme Court to-morrow, when a motion will be made to confirm the order of Judge Peckham's appointing Robert H. Pruyn receiver.

Coal Riots.

SCRANTON, Aug. 30.—All quiet to night. The bar rooms and saloons of the city have been closed by order of Mayor Thill. Four hundred special policemen have been sworn in. Seven hundred citizens have been enrolled as volunteers under command of Col. Charles E. Rice. All the coal mines are heavily guarded at the request of the miners belonging here, but the employes are from other districts and who have returned since it was voted to resume work. That question will be reopened and a final ballot will be taken by the Miner's Union, at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. Six mines were worked to-day, but none with full force. Many miners from other localities left on the evening trains. The miners of the Delaware Canal Company, at Oliphant, voted today to return to work.

Halifax Dispatch.

HALIFAX, Aug. 31.—A paper says that the Nova Scotia coal mines are prepared to supply New York and other Atlantic markets as soon as the duty is revoked. The discussion about annexation has been renewed and the project is rapidly growing in favor. A meeting was held at Halifax to decide upon receiving the Governor General. A majority of the citizens voted to give no reception. The matter was compromised by a small number, who quietly arranged for a reception, but there was no enthusiasm when the Governor General arrived.

Miscellaneous.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—In the case of the Royal Bank of Liverpool vs. Grand Junction Railroad Depot Company, brought to recover the amount of one hundred bonds, dated January 1st, fifty have been decided in favor of the plaintiffs. The amount in litigation is $84,800.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The uniform rule of the Police Commissioners has been modified to permit officers to be relieved of wearing uniforms on special occasions.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Captain Shaw, of the London Metropolitan Fire Brigade, reviewed the Fire Department of this city, yesterday. The men, horses and engines present made a creditable appearance, and displayed a proficient drill.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—The Republican mass meeting at the Metropolitan Theatre, last night, was the largest and most enthusiastic of the campaign. After telling addresses by Yates, Cattell, Kellogg, Carr and Stewart, the meeting broke up with cheers for the speakers and the Republican party.

A Democratic mass meeting, at Platt's Hall, last night, was addressed by Gen. Wallace, Judge Barbour, Hon. S. B. Axtell and Chas. Sumner.

Dennis McNally was stabbed in the hip by an unknown person, at the corner of Eighth and Howard street last night. McNally complains of a drunken special Policeman, who refused to arrest the man, though almost an eye witness to the assault.

Juan Mathias, a butcher at the Potrero, was gored to death yesterday afternoon, by an ox. Mathias was engaged in dragging the animal to a ring bolt in the floor, when the rope broke and the beast immediately pinned him to the wall, one horn entering a vital spot, killing him almost instantly.

Mrs. Swain was found dead at her residence on Cushman street, yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Holmes, of Sacramento, arrived on the Vallejo boat last night, with Frank Lines and Ira Hall, en route for San Quentin. Holmes undertook to convey them from the boat to the station house alone, and had no trouble until reaching Montgomery street, when the prisoners demanded to go into the California Restaurant, being hungry. Holmes consented, and after the prisoners were seated he removed their handcuffs to facilitate their eating, when Lines struck him in the face with a heavy pitcher, cutting him severely, and both made a break for the street. Holmes followed and shot Lines while running, the bullet striking him just below the right shoulder blade, coming out above the right nipple. There is some chance for his recovery. Ira Hall made his way to the top of the building, through the kitchen and was finally arrested. Holmes proceeded to San Quentin with him. This morning Hall stated that the plan of escape was agreed upon, but the original intention was to attack the Deputy Sheriff at Vallejo.

The San Francisco Sangerbund, numbering 120 persons, under Prof. Herold, serenaded Senator Carl Schurz, at his hotel, last night. The Senator responded in German.

Chief Crowley has appointed a hundred special policemen for special duty at the polls to-morrow.

John Bingley has withdrawn from the canvass in the 12th Ward and requests friends to vote for Dr. H. S. Gates for Supervisor, nominee of the Tax payer's Union.

A meeting of Native Californians last evening endorsed the Tax-payer's ticket.

There are now nearly 35,800 names on the Great Register of this city, and the prevailing topic is the approaching election. Business will be generally suspended to-morrow. The bankers and underwriters have already given notice that their places of business will be closed.

Thos. W. Badger, for many years actively concerned with the shipping interests of this port, has been appointed to the vacant Marine Surveyorship of the People's Insurance Co.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Aug 31.—A cable broke at the Crown Point mine this morning, while hoisting a cage, weighing with its load 440 pounds. Great damage was prevented by the complete action of the safety attachment, invented by Alex. McMartin, head blacksmith of the works. The cable had been in use but a few weeks and was supposed to be defective.

The Martinetti Troupe commence an engagement here next Monday evening.

Daniel Collins is under $1,000 bonds for passing counterfeit money. Another warrant has been issued, and he will to morrow be taken before the United States District Court for a preliminary examination.

The weather is cold and blustering.

THE EQUALIZER!

Treating Disease by Vacuum!

DR. H. A. BODMAN

HAVING PURCHASED HADFIELD'S EQUALIZER and the Patent Right for Multnomah county, would respectfully inform his friends and the public generally that he is prepared to treat successfully those Chronic cases on whom all other means of cure have failed.

Having used this Instrument in connection with his former practice for about three months, he is satisfied that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it in curing Chronic Disease. He does not believe in the system of advertising cases cured, but any number of such may be seen on record at his office, consisting principally of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Curvature of the Spine, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Weak Chests, Asthma, Narrow Chests, Weak Lungs, Weak Backs, Weak, Stiff and Rheumatic Limbs, Sciatica, Spasms, Epilepsy, Palsy, St. Vitus Dance, Prolapsus Uteri, Obstructed Menstruation, with all their concomitant Diseases, Impotency and all kinds of weaknesses of the Generative Organs. Spermatorrhœa confidently cured in from four to six weeks without medicine.

He uses other remedies when necessary, but the Equalizer generally performs the cure without the aid of any medicines whatever. It brings a greater supply of blood and nutrition to all weak parts, thus creating new life and tone, and health, and strength in those parts. It breaks up congestion and inflammation by equalising the circulation throughout every part of the system.

Give it a fair trial and you will be satisfied with the results. It has been examined by thousands of physicians of all Schools of Medicine, and there has not been one dissenting voice to the correctness of the principle; all acknowledge that it fills a vacuum in the Science of Medicine.
